Foundation supports president, leaders

As military action began in Iraq, the following statement was issued by Brooke Rollins, president of the Texas Public Policy Foundation:

"Even as the military action gets underway, we at the Texas Public Policy Foundation offer our support to the president, members of Congress and other national and state leaders. We join them in praying for a quick, just and victorious resolution to this grave effort and for the safety of our troops. Like all Texans, we cannot wait to welcome home our men and women in uniform, who are so honorably serving our national interest."
