

Bio

Karen E. Hill, M.D., M.B.A., F.A.C.P. is a native of Columbus, Ohio where she graduated from The Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Science in Microbiology. She attended the University Of Cincinnati College Of Medicine and moved to Houston for a dual residency in Internal Medicine and Pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine. She started practice as a Clinical Assistant Professor at Baylor where she split her time between private practice and academic medicine teaching and supervising medical students and residents. In July 2000, she opened a solo practice, Internal Medicine and Pediatric Associates. Here she cared for the entire family from birth until death. With her interest focused on prevention, she developed The Life Long Weigh, which was a successful non-surgical life-style and integrative medicine program within her practice.

While working part time as an Associate Medical Director for Amerigroup Corp., a company who served the Medicaid population in Houston, Austin, San Antonio and Corpus Christi, she was prompted to return to school at the University of Houston Bauer School of Business to earn an executive MBA with a Healthcare certificate. She has served as the Senior Medical Director for STAR+PLUS and Medicare/Medicaid dually eligible populations at Cigna Health Spring. Currently, Dr. Hill is the Senior Vice President and Chief Medical Officer of Community Health Choice, a safety net health plan serving South East Texas and a leader in providing care to the underserved Medicaid, CHIP and the Affordable Care Act.
