

Dr. Donald S. Frazier
Director, The Texas Center
Schreiner University

Dr. Donald S. Frazier is the Director of The Texas Center at Schreiner University in Kerrville. A graduate of The University of Texas at Arlington and Texas Christian University, Frazier is also the award-winning author of five books on the Civil War including Blood and Treasure, Cottonclads, Fire in the Cane Field, Thunder Across the Swamp, and Blood on the Bayou. His latest work, Tempest Over Texas, was released in 2020. His other work includes serving as co-author of Frontier Texas, Historic Abilene, and The Texas You Expect, as well as general editor of The U.S. and Mexico at War and a collection of letters published as Love and War: The Civil War Letter and Medicinal Book of Augustus V. Ball.

In addition to his teaching duties, Frazier has been very involved in work on Civil War and frontier heritage trails in Texas, New Mexico, and Louisiana, and work on historical projects in Europe and Mexico. He helped design Frontier Texas!, a museum-attraction in Abilene, Texas. He is the writer and director for the video Our Home, Our Rights: Texas and Texans in the Civil War, a winner of the Mitchell Wilder Award for Excellence in Publications and Media Design from the Texas Association of Museums. Come and Take It, a treatment of the life story of Susannah Dickinson, is his first full length play.

Dr. Frazier is an elected member of the prestigious Philosophical Society of Texas, the oldest learned organization in the state, a Fellow of the Texas State Historical Association, and a Director-Scholar on the board of the Texas Historical Foundation.

In 1995, Dr. Frazier helped found the McWhiney Group, a Texas-based 501 (c)3 non-profit that operates an educational adventure enterprise, Bear Leader Tours; State House Press, a publishing imprint in consortium with Texas A&M University Press; and online education efforts. Frazier also managed the Buffalo Gap Historic Village as part of his non-profit portfolio. The McWhiney group currently sponsors the Anne Bailey Dissertation Prize through the Society of Civil War Historians and supports the efforts of The Texas Center at Schreiner University.
