

Jana Spruce spent 30+ years in aerospace and defense at Boeing Satellite Systems, Eclipse Aviation, Collins Aerospace, and Firefly Aerospace. At Collins she was Director of Advanced Space Suit and led the prototype team behind the company's winning bid on NASA's $1.7B next-generation spacesuit contract. As VP of Spacecraft at Firefly, she led the Blue Ghost Mission 1 team that achieved the first fully successful commercial moon landing. Her name is on a plaque on the moon. She has secured more than $2.3B in contracts across her career.

She holds a B.S. in Aerospace

Engineering from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and an MBA from UCLA Anderson. She is Board President of the Central Texas Spaceport, founder of Spruce Consulting Group, author of Home of the Brave: Raising Patriots One Holiday at a Time, and the mother of five. Catholic. Texan. She speaks about what matters most: faith, family, and the country that made it all possible.

"The most important mission I've ever led is the one at my kitchen table."
